Getting around Warsaw

Public transport is cheap, reliable, comfortable and easy-to-use.

Comprehensive guide: <https://www.wtp.waw.pl/en/public-transport-step-by-step/>

Maps: <https://www.wtp.waw.pl/en/maps-schemas/>

Tickets: a regular 20 minute ticket costs 3.40 zł (about 0.75€), a 75 minute ticket costs 4.40 zł (about 1€). You can also get an unlimited 3-day ticket for 36 zł (about 8€). Tickets can be bought at red touchscreen machines marked 'ZTM'. Instructions are available in several languages, including English (press the appropriate flag button).

Metro: nearest station = Nowy Świat-Uniwersytet (M2)

Taxis are available (use only licensed taxis, which are recognisable by having the tariff displayed in the window).

Uber, Bolt and Free Now are also available.

Travelling to Warsaw

Warsaw has two airports: Chopin (Okecie) and Modlin

Chopin (Okecie) Airport is located about 10 km south of the city centre.

(<https://lotnisko-chopina.pl/en/index.html>)

Bus: <https://www.lotnisko-chopina.pl/en/public-transport.html>

Train: <https://lotnisko-chopina.pl/en/train.html>

Taxi: <https://lotnisko-chopina.pl/en/taxi.html>

For public transport you will need a 75 minute ticket to reach the city centre. Taxis should cost around 40 zł (about 8.70€) for the city centre, 50 zł (about 10.85€) on weekends.

Modlin Airport is the Ryanair hub and is located about 40km north of the city centre.

(<https://www.warsaw-modlin-airport.com/>)

To get into central Warsaw, take the bus shuttle (marked 'KM', in green/yellow livery) to Modlin railway station and head directly over the bridge to the Warsaw-bound platform. Your ticket will include both the bus and train for 22.40 zł (about 4.85€) (one-way), available to buy in the arrivals hall. Tickets can also be bought online in advance (choose the Lotnisko Modlin option).

Shuttle bus waiting outside Modlin Railway Station

Warsaw is also reachable by railway from other Polish cities and most capital/major cities of neighbouring countries (<https://www.pkp.pl/en/>).

Accommodation

Warsaw has many hotels covering all budgets, as well as the option of renting an apartment for a couple of days. Check out the usual suspects (booking.com; expedia, etc.) for a range of possibilities.

Low-budget options include:

Mazowiecki Hotel (<https://phhhotele.pl/en/hotele/warszawa-hotel-mazowiecki/>)

Oki Doki Hostel (<https://okidoki.pl/>)

Vava Hostel (<https://vava-hostel.warsawhotelspoland.com/en/>)

Food

Refreshments will be served during the coffee breaks. For lunch we will head to one of the local restaurants; you are welcome to join us or make your own arrangements!

Weather

Daytime temperatures in mid-June are usually quite comfortable (12–22 °C) and it's often quite sunny. However, the weather can be quite unpredictable! Thunderstorms with heavy rain are not unknown and the evening temperatures can still be a little chilly, but hot days are possible too (around 30 °C) – check before you travel!

Other Useful Information

Wi-Fi: Eduroam is available on the main university campus. Guest Wi-Fi can be provided after registration (<https://guestwifi.uw.edu.pl/main/>). Free Wi-Fi is available at most restaurants/cafes.

Plug socket type: E (standard European two-prong)

Currency: the zloty (zł or PLN)

Time zone: CEST (Central European Summer Time)

Sightseeing

Warsaw has many interesting places to visit, including historical (and reconstructed) buildings, museums and monuments. The Old Town (Stare Miasto) is very atmospheric and picturesque.

There are also pleasant green spaces right in the heart of the city (e.g. Saski Gardens)
